

De Gaulle Aide Slips Into Algeria As Crisis Mounts

Lebanon Leader Appeals to His People to End Upheaval

General to Give Views On Monday

Paris—(AP)—Gen. Charles De Gaulle's top legislative lieutenant slipped into the Gaullist stronghold of Algeria today as Premier Pierre Pflimlin struggled against rightists at home.

The arrival of Jacques Soustelle, who had been held incommunicado in Paris after trying to fly to Algeria earlier this week, was announced by radio Algiers. His arrival was expected to put new pressure on Pflimlin to reach a settlement with De Gaulle's supporters.

De Gaulle himself announced he will come to Paris Monday from his country home and hold a news conference. He is expected to clarify his statement of Thursday offering to assume full power in France, an offer that deepened the grave political crisis.

Grim Prospect Embattled Premier Pflimlin, facing the grim prospect of rioting by rightists tonight, sent a special envoy to De Gaulle's home village of Colombey-les-Deux-Eglises, 150 miles from Paris.

The envoy, Marcel Diebold, talked with De Gaulle's military aide but did not see the general himself. Presumably, Pflimlin was seeking clarification of De Gaulle's role in the crisis prior to Monday's news conference.

French air force mystere jet planes repeatedly flew low over the village as Diebold talked with the aide for an hour.

The 19 social Republican deputies in the national assembly issued a statement denying De Gaulle would take any step that might plunge France into chaos. They said "Republican legality can never be put in peril by the one who, himself, reestablished it in 1944."

Pflimlin lost no time in exercising the emergency powers granted him for three months by an overwhelming vote in parliament last night. Special agents were arresting rightists in Paris and throughout France. Two air force generals were reported among those held.

Ignoring this show of strength, the National Association of War Veterans called for demonstrations tonight and tomorrow at the tomb of the unknown soldier at the Arc de Triomphe.

Mich's citation said he "pioneered in the development of the picture story and the application of the graphic arts to the interpretation of current events."

Zielke was honored as "stimulator of improved practices and methods in community journalism."

Dr. Casey was the banquet speaker, and he told assembled old son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Beier, was pronounced dead at a hospital.

Beier, 40, did not hear the screams of his wife, Leona, 38, who saw the accident.

Paper Claims U. S. Would Send Troops

Washington—(AP)—The United States is prepared to send American forces into Lebanon to protect American lives and property should it deem such a move necessary, the Washington Post said today.

The paper said Secretary of State Dulles has told this to top senate leaders of both political parties.

However, the Post said, Dulles specified two conditions: 1. That the Lebanese government ask for American help in the event it found it was unable to protect Americans in Lebanon.

Go to UN 2. That the Lebanese government take its charge of "massive interference" by the United Arab Republic of Egypt and Syria to the United Nations security council.

The Post said Dulles informed top senate leaders Thursday of the decision. The senators were reported to have raised no objections.

The state department announced yesterday that American tanks would be sent Lebanon as part of a "modest military assistance program" for the beleaguered middle east nation.

Dulles told the senators that as of Thursday afternoon it appeared it would not be necessary to send in American forces, the Post said. But the day before, he was quoted as saying, the action loomed as a possibility.

He challenged New York Democratic leaders in a speech prepared for a Harlem rally marking the fourth anniversary of the supreme court's decision against school segregation.

"We need to serve notice to the people of this city that we are not going to tolerate any group of people sitting outside of our community dictating to us who our candidates shall be within our community," Powell said.

Sit in Judgment How dare the young Democrats of New York, an all-white organization with more than three non-white members, sit in judgment, downtown and tell us, the 400,000 people of Harlem, who our congressman should be?

Tammany Chief Carmine DeSapio said after a Thursday meeting of Harlem Democratic leaders that Powell would be denied the party's backing in his bid for another 2-year term in congress. They gave as their reason his support of President Eisenhower in the 1956 election.

The Harlem leaders voted 11-1 to read the 49-year-old congressman out of the Democratic party.

Powell Blasts Party Attempt To 'Dictate'

Calls on His People To Spurn Position Of Democratic Heads

New York—(AP)—Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-NY) called on the people of his district today to spurn any attempt to "dictate" who their congressman shall be.

Powell, who is being denied Democratic party support for renomination, pleaded innocent in federal district court yesterday to income tax evasion charges. He was indicted May 8.

Order Probe of Girl's Death in Lion's Cage

Tot Hauled Screaming Into Pen as Her Grandfather Fought to Ward Off Animal

Washington—(AP)—Smithsonian Institution officials ordered a formal investigation today into the death of a 2½-year-old Canadian girl killed her.

Police said the only other apparent eyewitness was Wesley Dildy, 12, part of a school group visiting the zoo from the Washington zoo.

Princess Anne county, Va. As her horrified grandfather fought vainly to save her Friday, Julia Ann Vogt was hauled screaming into the cage by a lion and decapitated.

The grandfather, Harry Jackson, 67, suffered a mild heart attack and was unable until this morning to give a coherent account of what happened. From his bed, he said: "I just walked down to the zoo with my two children. I had each of their hands and we walked around the cages."

"The older one and I looked over to the left where there were some lions pacing around. "The first thing I knew the little one on my other side had ducked through the railing and ran up to the cage. When I asked her to hold my hand, she had a habit of saying 'I hold my own hand, granddaddy' and that was the last thing she said."

"I reached over the railing to try to grab her but by that time the lion had pulled her into the cage. "I tried pulling on her arm and head and I called for help, but it was too late to do anything for her. A lady stepped up to help me."

"Julia Ann didn't make a sound. Earlier J. Lear Grimmer, associate zoo director, said an effort was being made to determine exactly what occurred. He said Dr. Leonard Carmichael, secretary of the Smithsonian Institution which supervises the mammoth zoological park, ordered a formal investigation. Grimmer said there was some confusion as to which of two lions in the cage killed her.

Beirut Calm But Tension Still Exists

Beirut, Lebanon—(AP)—President Camille Chamoun seized the offensive today in the clash with opposition forces seeking to overthrow his pro-western government.

Chamoun and his premier, Sami Solh, appealing to the people to end the upheaval, said the government is resolutely defending Lebanon's independence from outside forces. As if to underline their words, this capital was the calmest it has been in a week.

The two charged once more that opposition leaders who launched a wave of strikes and death dealing riots a week ago were working to make Lebanon another province of President Nasser's United Arab Republic.

The government's campaign started with radio broadcasts last night and splashed in the press this morning, was felt instantly in Beirut. Unless die-hard opposition leaders have something up their sleeves Chamoun's campaign to restore order seemed headed toward success.

Although there still was tension more automobile traffic appeared on the streets and more shops opened for business.

Long Way To Go Chamoun and his government still have a long way to go before bringing this riot torn nation back to normal. But feverish political negotiations going on between the opposing factions perhaps will do this sooner than could be expected under ordinary circumstances.

Two leaders of the warring anti-government Druze tribesmen were reported ready to sit down to peace talks. Parliament was summoned for a meeting and officials hoped the cooling off would extend into the mountains.

The Druze armistice could mean an important victory for Chamoun over opposition forces trying to unseat him.

Love What's Lovable

Redlands, Calif.—(AP)—"You've got to love what's lovable, and hate what's hateable. It takes brains to see the difference."

White-haired Poet Robert Frost, at 84 a living legend in the world of letters, was telling an interviewer his views on life:

"I've waged a lover's quarrel with the world ever since I felt old enough to woo it with dash. I was astodgy only when I was young."

"I never dared to be radical for fear it would make me conservative when I was old."

Pulitzer Winner New Englander Frost, 2-time Pulitzer prize winner whose works command long passages in such reference books as "Who's Who," was visiting here with friends. He took time out before leaving on a lecture tour to talk on many subjects.

On poets: "Poets are like baseball pitchers. Both have their moments. The intervals are the tough things. Modern poets talk against business, poor things, but all of us write for money. Beginners are subjected to trial by market poor things."

On literature: "Homer's 'Odyssey' is the best novel of all time. Twain's 'Jumping Frog' is the best lyrical thing I know."

On religion: "God seems to me to be something which wants us to win. In tennis. Or poetry. Or marriage. Of course, somebody must lose. That's when you step up to the spiritual plane. I'm like a modern car in religious matters. I may look convertible. But I'm a hardtop. I'm working on a couplet now."

Mental Comfort "Forgive, O Lord, my little jokes on Thee."

"And I'll forgive Thy great big one on me."

Being born, does he mean? Frost only shrugs.

For mental comfort, he suggests the philosophy of the poet Keats: "Beauty is truth, truth beauty—that is all we know on earth and all we need to know."

Believe Ike Would Sign Defense Bill

Measure Is Without Some Changes Asked for by the Administration

Washington—(AP)—President Eisenhower was pictured by congressional sources today as willing to sign the house defense reorganization bill even if it passes without changes he advocates.

One of these sources, who asked not to be quoted by name, told a newsman: "Without any doubt he will not veto the bill if it is passed as it now stands."

The house armed services committee Friday approved a compromise bill that would give Eisenhower essentially what he asked for in arrangements for streamlined command of unified forces.

Hostile to Changes But the committee, hostile to changes that might infringe on the individual services or on congress' own prerogatives, turned down several Eisenhower requests for administrative changes.

Referring to two of these points, Eisenhower said in a letter to Chairman Carl Vinson (D-Ga.). "I hope this language will be suitably adjusted on the house floor."

In the first reaction from the Pentagon, Secretary of Defense McElroy echoed the president's comment, saying that while the bill "seems to have accomplished most of the president's major objectives, certain language will, in our opinion, impair efficient administration."

Final Decision One of the points in question, committee members said, involves a provision continuing to give congress final decision, without possibility of a presidential veto in controversial changes in functions of any service. The other issue is language specifying that the secretary of defense's authority over the services shall be exercised through their own secretaries.

Republicans joined Democrats on the committee in unanimously approving the bill which now goes to the house for action, perhaps within two weeks.

Several Republican members emphasized they thought the president would reach his main objectives under the committee bill.

Action Taken To Impeach Court Judge

Nashville, Tenn.—(AP)—Three house prosecutors will present to the state senate today a 24-count impeachment of Judge Raulston Schoolfield on grounds ranging from obscenity to bribery.

It will be the last step in the proceedings before both houses adjourn. The senate then will reform as a court of impeachment and summon the 53-year-old Chattanooga to hear the charges before setting a trial date.

The representatives chose three of their number to prosecute the case immediately after the impeachment vote yesterday. They are Reps. John R. Jones, McAllen Foutch and J. Alan Hanover. Jones is a Republican, and the other two are Democrats, as is Schoolfield.

House Speaker James B. Egan was named ex officio chairman and the group was authorized to hire special counsel.

Chief Justice A. B. Neil of the state supreme court will assign a judge to take over Schoolfield's criminal court until the trial ends.

If Schoolfield is convicted, Gov. Frank Clement will appoint a successor for the remainder of his term, which ends Aug. 31.

Secretary of State Reported Ready to Visit Brazil in July

Rio de Janeiro—(AP)—Secretary of State Dulles is expected by reliable sources to visit Brazil in late July and President Juscelino Kubitschek says the nation will welcome him "with special pleasure."

Dulles probably will confer with Brazilian leader on U.S. foreign policy and discuss communist penetration in Latin America, informants said.

Vice President Nixon visited Brazil several years ago but did not include it on his riot-marred recent Latin American tour.

Les Dietzen Hurls 5-Frame No-Hit Tilt

City Loop Games Shortened Because Of High Scores

Kaukauna — One-sided wins continued in the City Softball league Thursday night as Shamrock bar downed Peter's bar, 16 to 1, in a 5-inning tilt and Nagel's bar downed Shermy's Barbers, 14 to 0, on a no-hitter for five innings by Les Dietzen.

Shamrock won in the first inning, exploding eight runs and nine hits. Big blows were a double by Phelan Femal and a triple by Jim Otte. Peter's scored one run in the second on an error, a passed ball and a single.

The Irish scored another eight runs in the second frame on three hits, three walks and two errors. Neither team posed a serious threat in the remaining three frames.

No Hitter

Nagel's bar had no trouble downing Shermy's. Dietzen faced only 17 men in his 5-inning, no hit game. A walk and a wild pitch in the opening inning permitted a player to advance to second base, but none got beyond that point after.

Dietzen's mates won the contest in the first inning with two runs on three hits. They added four runs on five hits in the second inning and in the fifth scored eight runs on seven hits. Ray Gerow paced the winners at the plate with three hits in four trips.

C of C Plans Meeting Dates

Scheduled Adopted, Summer Store Hours To Be Investigated

Kaukauna — The chamber of commerce voted Thursday night to adopt a schedule of monthly meetings rather than calling periodic meetings.

The organization will meet the third Thursday of each month, the next time June 19 at the Elks clubrooms. Members were unable to agree on summer closing hours for stores and referred the matter to the retail committee for study and recommendation.

Several business places adopted a schedule whereby stores would close at noon Saturdays from May through September. Other stores felt this was too long a period and adopted the regular June through August closing as in previous years.

The problem of whether to close stores all day Saturday following Memorial day and July 4, also was unresolved. Some representatives favored closing while others were opposed. The matter also was referred to the retail committee for checking.

The committee will call all business places and tabulate results. It will notify of the majority decision. Individual businessmen still will have to decide whether to follow the recommended schedule. Businessmen will advertise their summer store hours in conjunction with their regular advertising.

Boy, 15, Says He Tried Armed Robbery of Store

Appleton Youth, 17-Year-Old Friend Escaped
In Fusillade of Shots at Navarino Wednesday

A 15-year-old Appleton boy has confessed the attempted armed robbery of a Navarino store Wednesday.

Appleton police picked him up after his 17-year-old companion talked to a detective friend early Friday morning.

Police Chief Walter J. Hendricks said the 17-year-old youth apparently was an innocent participant in the attempted holdup of the general store of Wilbert Conradt Wednesday morning.

The 15-year-old youth said he bought the .22 caliber revolver at a DePere sporting goods store for $29.95 about three weeks ago. Conradt wrestled the gun away from the youth during the holdup and emptied it at his fleeing car, shattering the rear window.

Took Father's Car
The 15-year-old took his father's 1956 Buick early Wednesday morning without the father's knowledge, police said.

He picked up the 17-year-old about 8 o'clock and the two skipped school to go for a ride. They drove to Freedom, then to Seymour and the 15-year-old took some shots at pigeons during the ride, the older youth said.

At Seymour, the 15-year-old replaced the rear window. The 15-year-old took over the wheel and drove to Appleton. He left his 17-year-old companion and went home. He took $31 of his own money and stole $20 from a bank of his father's, bought a rear window at Cloud Buick company, Inc., for $50 and had it installed at Appleton Paint and Glass company, police said.

The robbery attempt actually cost the youth not only the expense of the rear window, but another $1 which he left on the Conradt store counter when he fled. He had put it there when he asked Conradt for candy, then pulled the gun. Conradt wound up with the gun, the dollar and a bullet hole in his store wall when the gun discharged during the struggle with the youth.

Appleton police said the 15-year-old's only previous record was the theft of some rabbits. The boy, an only child, lives with his father. His mother is hospitalized.

The boys are being held in the Shawano county jail pending an appearance before Juvenile Judge Bernard Diletti Monday. No charges have been filed.

Style-Making Headlines are being made by straw hats this season in the Fox Cities, according to Andrew C. (Andy) Jimos, of Jimos Hat Cleaners, 227 W. College avenue, whose custom hats are rated tops by fashion-conscious local men. Warm weather signals the appropriateness of straws, and there are several new styles from which to choose this year, Jimos says. The "Sennit" (upper left), a style popular in Barber Shop quartet days is back for city wear. More common styles in straws are shown at bottom left and top right, while the Tyrolean style, strictly for fun-in-the-sun wear at resorts and on vacation, is shown at bottom, right.

Both felts and straws are presently being rejuvenated to keep pace with the season's styles, Jimos said Friday. The addition of a new - style wide modern band may be all that your old hat requires to keep it in fashion. New hats in all popular styles are available at Jimos', which is located right between the Home Appliance company and the Firestone store on W. College avenue. Proud of his thirty - seven years in business, Jimos points to his development of special skills in renewing of both men's and women's felt hats. Using a secret process originated by the shop, old hats, regardless of condition, are made to look like new. The shop also is well known for its shoe shine service and is the regular stopping place for a great many men to select, their favorite cigars, tobacco, pipes and cigarettes from its complete selection. The unusually large selection of pipes, tobacco and smoking accessories make shopping here a real pleasure for items of this kind, customers agree. Mail orders for hat cleaning or for new Jimos hats are accepted from as far as 300 miles away. Phone number at Jimos Hat Cleaners is RE 3-9727.

Let Girl's Mom Worry After 12

BY JOSEPH PECK, M.D.

(Condensed from the book, "All About Men," Copyright 1958, By Prentice-Hall, Inc.)

As far as the period from 12 to 17 is concerned, no man living knows more about the adolescent boy than I, and I know nothing.

The female of the species begins to attract him, and to get her attention he borrows Dr. Joe Peck is a retired family physician whose stand in the war of the sexes is that the girl's guilty until proven innocent. He gives forth with his views in 15 daily installments and offers advice and anecdotes for beleaguered males.

the courting methods of the rooster sege chicken. He struts around ignoring her presence while performing every ridiculous stunt he can think up.

At this period he is so purely masculine he won't even wash his face or comb his hair. But as he succumbs to the influence of girls, he is liable to try to remove his freckles with carbolic acid.

Girls, meanwhile, take care of the dating technique. How they tame him and put the first halter over his head is beyond his comprehension, but they do it.

When the boy begins dating, a whole new set of problems arise. My wife's philosophy is, I think, the best to tide you over this hurdle.

I awoke one midnight to find her coming to bed, although our elder son had not yet returned home.

"I refuse to worry after midnight," she said. "Let the girl's mother take it from there."

The Innocent Sex In dealing with juvenile problems I formed a whole-some respect for the natural oneness of the young male. Believe me, adolescent boys seldom are the intentional aggressors.

When I visited a pal who got a date for me. We soon paired off, and since it was a moonlit summer night, my girl and I took a walk.

After about a mile she suggested that we rest under a tree. I, thinking about grass stains and chiggers (nasty little insects that live in the grass and burn like fury when they burrow under the skin), hunted up a couple of rocks to sit on. She flopped full length and suggested that I do likewise. But being on my good behavior, I sat on the rock. Besides, I hated chiggers.

Afterwards, at her front door I figured that perhaps I'd better assert myself and steal a goodnight kiss. Instead of the friendly wrestle I expected, she swung one from the hip and blackened my eye good and proper. I didn't blame her too much. After all, it was a long walk. But the evidence next day branded me as a wolf.

I said nothing to defend myself, but I did get even during ensuing years. Whenever boy-girl problems came to my office, I judged the gal guilty until clearly proved otherwise.

Fathers, Stand by A boy is really behind the 8-ball in these affairs, and if anyone should stand by him it is his father.

Although he will later in bull sessions boast of the number of girls he has seduced (while women brag about the number of Romeos they have thwarted), he won't discuss his troubles with you or anybody else. You must accordingly treat him as a man.

Some night begin your own confessional. Instead of asking him about his troubles, tell him what a nunny you were at his age. He may not open up, but at least he will laugh with you at the figure you cut, and will apply some of your solutions to his own case.

During adolescence your boy has the soul of a poet and the carnal appetites of a tomat. It is possible that he will meet a girl who will take his puppy advances seriously and meet

Nelson Says Car Policy Loses Money for State

Milwaukee —(AP)—Gaylord Nelson, a candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, charged Thursday night Wisconsin wastes a quarter of a million dollars a year by failing to provide its employees with state-owned autos. He talked at Menomonie.

Right to Work?

There has not been a great deal of pressure in Wisconsin political circles for so-called "right to work" legislation, which in effect would outlaw the union shop. The YGOP did endorse such legislation, but Wisconsin party leaders have brushed the topic aside.
Actually, while unions and Democrats in general (except in the South) have denounced such legislation and industrial leaders and farmers have tended to support it, the need of right to work legislation depends on an immediate situation rather than an interpretation of any deeply fundamental principle of law.
Basically the individual's right to bargain for himself has been invaded for the alleged good of the whole when he is required to join a union to work in a certain industry. But such invasion was made long ago when "yellow dog" contracts were outlawed; under such a contract an employer could demand that a man not join a union as a requirement of employment. When one gets down to basic principles, if one is wrong then so is the other.
But when the yellow dog contracts were outlawed, employers held immeasurable power over employees which is not the case today. Labor unions most definitely have a point in this decade in claiming it is unjust for a worker to reap all the benefits sweated out by the union without having to join and pay dues. But the argumentum ad horrendum that right to work legislation tolls the death knell of labor unions is foolishness.
About a third of the states have some form of right to work law, and unions have not gone out of existence in those areas. It is rather obvious that states like Michigan, where unions are strong and control much of the legislature as well as the executive, will not enact such laws. States where farmers and owners of small industries have bigger representations, such as in the

Free and Easy - With Our Money

There has been considerable hue and cry about the report that the giddy son of the dictator of the Dominican Republic just bought two foreign-made sports cars for a couple of American movie actresses. Actually Americans should be glad that young Trujillo is spending his American money in America and, if the amount is as big as estimated, thereby helping to fight the recession.
Several months ago there were vague mumbles because of publicity about the spending habits of the dictator's son who was ostensibly attending an army officer's class at Fort Leavenworth. He lived sumptuously in a hotel rather than a barracks, had several bodyguards, indulged freely in the so-called pleasures of mankind. Now it comes out that he also has a wife and six children.
The Dominican Republic (and the name must be used loosely) recently received $1,300,000 in foreign aid from the United

Weakness in the Law

Wisconsin's "Denial of Rights" statute, which has been on the books for over 50 years but which has been seriously enforced only in the last 15, contains a peculiar provision. A defendant convicted under its criminal provisions cannot thereafter be made to face a civil suit for the same unlawful act, or if a civil judgment is first returned against him he thereupon becomes immune to criminal prosecution.
As far as we know this is the only law on our books that contains this provision. In any other kind of case a man who suffers criminal prosecution after committing an unlawful act can expect to be made the defendant in a civil action also; for example, a drunken driver who causes an accident may expect to be sued for damages by the injured parties in addition to the criminal prosecution that naturally results.
The Denial of Rights statute prohibits discrimination on account of race, color or religion in any public place such as a hotel, motel, restaurant or transportation facility. With the exception of the quirk noted above, it is a good law and has been an effective deterrent against discrimination in Wisconsin.
Now, however, that quirk has been used to the detriment of justice in this state. A Burnett county resort owner last year refused to accommodate a Negro family, although the family had made a reservation

South and some middle western states, have enacted such legislation. Big industry in general approves of the union shop since it is easier to bargain with a union representative than a thousand individual employees.
The success of our form of government has been its ability to lay emphasis in varying directions depending on the needs and demands of the times. Thus in the 1930's and early 1940's picketing was upheld by the Supreme Court as a means of communication and thus a right under the First (free speech) amendment. As the right was abused, picketing was sometimes declared unlawful. And interpretations of "due process" under the Fifth and Fourteenth amendments fluctuated, not with the power of the federal government, but with the abuses of industry, the needs of the great depression, and finally with the growing power of labor unions.
The Supreme Court in the 1950's has made it rather clear that states may take back some of the control of labor which earlier courts denied them. But there is little assurance that such an attitude will continue. Statements by both Republican and Democratic senators have indicated that there will be more stringent federal legislation to curb the powers and abuses of labor unions even in the internal operation of their affairs.
A right to work law invades the freedom of contract, and while the freedom has been restricted many times before with approval of the courts and thus is not an absolute freedom, we do not think current conditions in Wisconsin warrant such a further restriction of employers' and unions' rights to contract with one another. However, if unions in Wisconsin ever begin using coercion against small employers and even individual proprietors the way they have in some states, such legislation might then be needed.

States. This is peanuts compared with our grants to some nations. Is it any worse that some million of this sum should be used to support the dictator's son as he is accustomed, than that it be used to rebuild the United States Information library in Lebanon so it can be burned down again, or handed to King Saud for a few more palaces and slave girls, or to the French to suppress the Algerians, or to support a university in Ecuador where our vice president was mobbed?
Our foreign aid program actually is well-conceived and carefully thought out. But, unfortunately, when a nation works on the theory that it can buy peace and prosperity for the world, or even woo neutral nations with cash, a lot of loose change gets lost in the shuffle.
If all the recipients of our foreign aid spent the money in this country and on such pretty girls as does young Trujillo, there would probably be no outcry from the American taxpayer at all.

and paid a deposit. The resort owner refused to cooperate with representatives of the Governor's Commission on Human Rights who tried to resolve the dispute amicably, yet pleaded no contest in Justice court to a criminal charge and paid a small fine. Thus when the aggrieved parties brought civil action, their case was dismissed because the defendant already had been found guilty under the criminal section of the statute.
While no collusion between the defendant and the justice of the peace was alleged in this case, it is obvious that the law as written leaves the door open for such collusion. It would be only too easy for a resort or hotel owner to gain the cooperation of a friendly judge to bring about a criminal action resulting in a small fine, and thus avoid a civil action which might cost him a lot of money.
Wisconsin has had a long and proud history of leadership in providing equal opportunities and equal treatment for all its citizens regardless of the color of their skin or the church they attend. But a law which prohibits civil action simply because a criminal action has been completed is a weak law, and this state should not have a weak law in this important field. The legislature should act as quickly as possible to amend the statute to eliminate this section.

Japanese Favor Greater Trade With Red China

Norway and Sweden Show Least Interest
BY ELMO C. WILSON
Director, World Poll
Considerable support for increased trade with Communist China is revealed in a recent World-Poll survey made in twelve nations. In most countries at least four people in ten were in favor of increasing trade with the Chinese Reds, and in Japan more than eight in ten took this view.
Japan also registered the least opposition to the idea. Only three per cent declared themselves against such an increase, as contrasted with 25 per cent of the Brazilians, who declared themselves opposed.
Britain and Australia also showed strong majorities in favor of more trading with the Reds, although there were many Australians who also expressed disapproval of the idea.
The question posed by World-Poll interviewers was: "Are you in favor of, or opposed to, increasing trade between this country and Red China?"
The following table shows the results of the poll in each of the twelve nations surveyed. The figures are given in percentages, with the number of respondents in each category.

Mellow Light, Tones of Brown Give Church Devotional Atmosphere

BY BETTY KILICH
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

A soft, mellow light sifts through the cathedral glass windows of new Bethany Evangelical Lutheran church, diffuses through the nave and altar, and adds a rich and devotional aura to Appleton's newest church building.

The super structure, the congregation's first permanent building, will be dedicated Sunday. It represents many years of planning by the comparatively young parish.

Although services have been held in the basement for several years, it wasn't until a few months ago that the upper church could be completed. The entire project, both basement and upper church, cost $159,905.

Contrasting colored wood and heavy stone blocks offer texture and tone interest to the simply-designed building.

Triad of Crosses
Dominating the altar is a triad of elongated crosses reaching upward toward apex of the pointed ceiling. The crosses are dark stained oak fastened to a light oak backdrop. At their base are seven candles.

Varying shades of brown are used throughout the building to offer a quiet, comfortable worshipful atmosphere.

The peaked ceiling is supported by heavy, dark western cedar beams, while the ceiling itself is of lighter laminated cedar. Pews, capable of seating 420, are fashioned from light oak, as are the altar, the pulpit, the communion rails and baptismal font.

The north wall of the church is windowless except for narrow panels of blue, red, yellow and beige glass. Unstained cathedral glass windows along the south wall are separated by similar colored panels.

Colors Repeated
Identical colors are repeated in the huge window at the front of the church facing the altar. In the shape of a huge diamond, the window extends from the floor to the ceiling and is dominated by a wooden cross in its center. At either side, stained glass forms non-symmetrical crosses.

Windows separate the lobby from the nave and a mothers' room has been provided at the rear of the church. Furnished with a chair, couch, table and lamp, the room also features a bathroom and a loud speaker through which the service can be heard.

All rooms, in fact, are wired so services can be broadcast throughout the building. Lighting is rheostatically controlled from all switches.

Stone Exterior
The exterior is constructed of Fond du Lac stone, with Indiana cut limestone trim. Large cedar crosses are placed at the outside front and side. From the short tower, sounds from the electrical bell system are controlled from the amplifying room.

According to the Rev. Lyle Koenig, pastor, the basement, long used for worship services, now will be transformed into educational rooms, an auditorium and dining rooms. Sliding doors will partition them and a full-equipped kitchen will supply food for dinner functions.

The firm of Edgar A. Steubenrauch and Associates, Sheboygan, was architect.

Contracts went to Al Utschig, Appleton, general contractor; Towne, Inc., Menasha, heating, ventilating, plumbing and drainage; and Electric Crafts company, Manitowoc, electrical.

The Rev. Lyle J. Koenig, pastor of Bethany Evangelical Lutheran church, is shown here in his study, a room adjacent to the altar in the new $159,905 building. The church will be dedicated Sunday in the same month the minister observes his first anniversary with the congregation. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Church Still Young, Shows Steady Growth

Bethany Congregation Increases From 12 to 540 Members in 18 Years of Life

Bethany Evangelical Lutheran congregation, 18 years old and a mere youngster compared with some other churches in the area, has shown a steady and healthy growth into maturity.

With the dedication of its permanent church building Sunday, the congregation enters the maturity it has sought.

First life was breathed into the congregation in the fall of 1940 when the Rev. William Schweppes was called by the mission board of the northern Wisconsin district of the Wisconsin synod to make a preliminary canvass of the city's expanding north side.

He recommended a permanent pastor be called to organize work and establish a mission congregation—a job filled by the Rev. D. E. Hallemeyer, now of Green Lake.

Work Successful
The Rev. Mr. Hallemeyer arrived in 1941. He did a follow-up canvass of the territory, concentrating his efforts in the area lying north of Wisconsin avenue and west of Appleton street.

His work was successful and first services were held on Pentecost Sunday, June 1, 1941, in the Reeder residence, 1751 N. Division street. Twelve persons were present and services were conducted at the home for the next three months.

Members continued to increase and the group organized into a mission congregation in September, 1941, with Oscar Radtke, Raymond Spangenberg, Lee Parker, Gustav Gust, Leland Koepke, Charles Witt and August Kersten as charter members.

The first board of trustees consisted of Radtke, chairman, Spangenberg, secretary, and Parker, treasurer.

It was on Oct. 12, 1941, the congregation voted to become a member of the Evangelical Lutheran Joint Synod of Wisconsin and Other States.

Still growing, the congregation took first steps toward its present church when it purchased lot at Parkway boulevard and Alvin street and drew plans for erection of a chapel-parsonage.

Completed in June, 1942, the chapel served the needs of the young congregation and its Sunday school until 1947, when the board of trustees obtained preliminary plans for the erection of a basement church with a seating capacity of 350.

Although the synod's mission board couldn't see the wisdom of the plan, they nevertheless finally approved and construction began in May, 1949. The structure was completed that November.

Soon after the burning of the mortgage in 1951, the congregation began investigating possibilities of building a superstructure, work on which began several months ago and is now completed.

And during the years in which the physical plant was growing, membership, too, increased until now 540 individuals, 364 communicants and 133 voting members are recorded on the church rolls.

When the Rev. Mr. Hallemeyer left a year ago, his pastorate was taken over by the Rev. Lyle Koenig.

Pastor With Newest Church For One Year

Rev. Lyle Koenig
At Bethany Lutheran
Since May, 1957

New Bethany Evangelical church will be dedicated in the same month the pastor observes his first anniversary with the congregation.

The dedication is Sunday and the Rev. Lyle Koenig began his service here last May, replacing the Rev. D. E. Hallemeyer, the parish's first permanent pastor.

The Rev. Mr. Koenig, a native of Baraboo, was graduated from Northwestern college, Watertown, in 1937, and from the theological seminary at Thiensville in 1940. He did exploratory mission work at Monroe and Lancaster until 1941, then accepted calls to serve both Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran church, Mosinee, and Our Savior Lutheran church, Wausau.

He was pastor at the two churches until 1954, when he was called to Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran church, Sault Ste. Marie, Mich. During his stay there he organized and served Our Saviour Evangelical Lutheran church, Sault Ste. Marie, Canada, and a mission at Cedarville, Mich.

In Good Taste

May be Out Of Place as Bridesmaid

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I are both in our early forties. He has a brother in the early twenties who is going to be married soon and my husband has been asked to be his best man. His bride-to-be has asked me to be a bridesmaid. I appreciate her asking but I feel the age difference between me and her young friends who will be bridesmaids is too great and I will certainly feel out of place. Could I possibly refuse to take part without hurting her feelings?

Answer: I understand your feelings perfectly and it would not be wrong to explain to the bride-to-be that you appreciate her wanting you as one of her attendants but that you would feel very much out of place with her young friends.

Only a Record

Dear Mrs. Post: It is customary here to keep a register at a funeral home so callers may sign their names and the family be given the record of who came. What shall be done about such names? Is it necessary that they be thanked for their "visit"?

Answer: "Nothing need be done about them. They are merely kept so that the family can know the names of those who came to show their friendship and sympathy."

Depends on Number

Dear Mrs. Post: My favorite niece is going to be married shortly and my daughter and I would like to give a shower for her. A friend of mine tells me that it would not be proper for me to give such a party. I know it is not considered correct for a member of her immediate family, but is an aunt considered immediate family?

Answer: If no other showers are given for her, you probably would not be criticized. But if other showers are being given this one by a relative would seem too many.

Husband's Tactics Embarrass Wife in Front of Party Guests

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: What do you think of a husband who, in front of guests, calls his wife and says, "Come here a minute." Then he moves a lamp or a chair and points out for all to see, a spot where she failed to dust?

This has happened to me no less than a dozen times and I am just about through having guests in the house. I'd appreciate it if you'd offer a suggestion, or a reply to put him in his place.

— JUST CALL ME "DUSTY"

Dear Dusty: Don't cut yourself off from civilization merely because you're married to a tasteless clod. Simply do this:

About 15 minutes before the guests are scheduled to arrive, ask your husband, (Let's call him "Crusty") to make a thorough inspection of the house and point out all areas that need attention. Then you'll be relieved of the embarrassment of having these details brought up later and it will disarm him completely.

Dear Ann: I keep thinking, this is all a nightmare and that I will wake up any minute. I'm furious. He calls Rickey "Cry 18 and a senior in high school. Baby" and "Sissy Boy" and my steady boy friend talked last night he made the child me into eloping four months ago because he wanted to quit school and join the Army.

I didn't use my head. It all seemed so exciting. I knew my folks would never give me permission to get married because they hated the fellow. We ran off and a J. P. performed the ceremony. Six weeks later, he was inducted.

I know for sure that I'm pregnant. I'm scared to death to tell my folks. I wrote my husband immediately and he didn't answer my letter. I'm sure he must be mad at me because he used to write three times a week. I've thought of leaving home but I have no place to go. Please tell me what to do. I feel like I'm losing my mind.

— SORRY NOW

Tell your folks before they tell you. How long do you think you can keep it to yourself? This is no time to leave home. Put your faith and trust in your parents (which is more than you did for them) and let's hope they see you through.

In the meantime, if your husband has forgotten your address, the Army knows it. Write to his commanding officer or have the Red Cross make the contact. You're entitled to part of his check under law. This boy has an obligation to accept the responsibilities of a husband and father. Good luck. You'll need it.

DEAR ANN: I don't know who's the real problem — my husband or our son. Rickey is a sensitive child. He's 11 years old and doesn't take disappointment very well. He cries frequently. His father can't stand this all a nightmare and that I will wake up any minute. I'm furious. He calls Rickey "Cry 18 and a senior in high school. Baby" and "Sissy Boy" and my steady boy friend talked last night he made the child me into eloping four months ago because he wanted to quit school and join the Army.

husband's "violent reaction" to his tears that should be looked into.

Your husband sees in his son the reflection of his own youth. He used this weeping technique and hated himself for it.

Punishing the boy by putting a doll in his lap is cruel. This should be stopped at once.

Your husband should talk this out with a professional. It will help his total relationship with his family if he understands what is behind his strong reaction to the boy's crying.

Couple Will Honeymoon In Kansas

A wedding trip to Kansas has been planned by Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Hartzheim who were married at 9 o'clock this morning at St. Mary Catholic church, Kaukauna. The bride, who was Genevieve Arnoldussen before her marriage, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Arnoldussen, 219 E. Second street, Kaukauna.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hartzheim, route 4, Appleton. Mr. Arnoldussen escorted his daughter to the altar where the Rev. Peter Salm read the double ring nuptial rites.

The bride's attendants were Mrs. Marvin Van Deroo, her sister, who was the matron of honor, and bridesmaid Mrs. Paul Ashauer, sister of the bridegroom. Marvin Van Deroo was best man and Paul Ashauer was groomsmen.

Joseph Arnoldussen, brother of the bride, and Lester Hartzheim, brother of the bridegroom, were ushers. A breakfast at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony and preceded a dinner at noon for 50 guests at the Veterans of Foreign Wars hall, Kaukauna. A supper at 5 o'clock, a reception from 7 to 9 o'clock and a dance from 8 until 12 o'clock will also be staged there.

The bride is employed at Larry's Piggly Wiggly food store and Mr. Hartzheim is employed at the Badger Tissue mill. They will reside at 1064 E. Eighth street.

Beauty Use Tub Sessions For Relaxation

By Marian Matthews

Take the boredom out of bathtime with the use of fragrance. Learn how relaxing 20 minutes can be in a tub scented and perfumed as even Cleopatra would have envied.

Choose a few fragrant products for the next Saturday night or immediate session with the tub and soapsuds. Select a generous size of soap; a pretty bottle of bath oil and dusting powder and you're off to a good start and finish. Have all these in the same fragrance and you will feel as glamorous as a star for hours.

Cleaning up the tub is a snap when you use oil or bath salts because they soften water and if hard water is a community shortcoming, you can make it less of a problem for you.

After your bath relax for another 20 minutes just stretched out on your bed or reading or listening to music. All the beauty jars and bottles in the world can't match the magic of a thoroughly relaxed body and softness with such a treatment and if they aren't deep to begin with, you may find it difficult to see them at all.

Regular sessions of this type can do a lot to improve your appearance and disposition. Take two or three nights a week for this type of beauty treatment. Follow with eight to 10 hours sleep and you'll not only feel like a new woman—you'll look like one!

Can tropical plants which normally lose many of their fragrant white blossoms, follow lower leaves be induced to hold loved (if you have insects to pollinate them) by round.

If a plant is prone to lose bright red fruits the size of lower leaves in its native habitation, there is little you can do to prolong their stay on the stem or stalk. However, by approximating their natural environment as closely as possible, the plant will not shed them prematurely.

Is Macpherson a good house plant?

Yes, if you can give it the conditions of moisture and humidity it prefers; no, if you expect to set it on a coffee-table and have it thrive.

What is the greyish-leaved foliage I saw used in large bouquets at a flower show? The leaves are opposite, and they had quite an odor when bruised. This might have been one of the Eucalyptus species, many of which are prized for their foliage.

Perfume is the top note to all flattery. One can begin with the scented bath, which in turn serves as a period of relaxation.

Visiting Nurse Says:

Public Should be Aware of Cancer's Seven Danger Signs

Though the danger signals of cancer have been publicized from one end of the country to the other, a recent survey revealed only slightly more than half of the adults interviewed in a nation wide poll could name even one danger signal.

Let us list again the seven warning signals which should have prompt medical attention: 1. Unusual bleeding or discharge. 2. A lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere. 3. A sore that does not heal. 4. Persistent change in bowel or bladder habits. 5. Persistent hoarseness or cough. 6. Persistent indigestion or difficulty in swallowing. 7. Change in a wart or mole.

They do not necessarily mean cancer but they do warn of trouble.

We know a tumor is any abnormal growth of body tissue. Some become malignant because of the lawless growth of cells. Men are more likely to have a cancer of the mouth, stomach, lungs, skin and rectum. Men should, therefore, be alert to changes such as recurring indigestion or persistent changes in bowel habits.

Women have more frequent cancer of the reproductive organs and the breasts and should learn the method of self-examination to be used once a month in the breast area. Cancer can occur even in childhood but it is much more likely to appear in women over 35 and men after 40. Every adult should have a thorough check-up once a year.

No Secret Remedies

For men this should include a chest X-ray and for women a pelvic examination. Ordinarily such an examination can be carried on in a physician's office. Never submit to the doubtful services of an advertising doctor or the cultist who "guarantees" a cure or claims to possess a "secret" remedy. The qualified doctors have saved thousands of lives per year by prompt application of surgery, X-ray, or radium treatment.

Quick diagnosis is most important and it is in this field the most hopeful advances have been made. For growths that are more easily reached a tiny section may be removed and this specimen studied under a microscope for diagnosis.

Cancer can be cured if it is treated or removed in its early stages. Some grow slowly, some grow fast but whatever their nature, if neglected, all cancers will grow to the point where they can neither be treated or removed. Sooner or later some of the cancerous cells will become detached from the main tumor and be carried to other parts of the body.

When these secondary growths are numerous or inaccessible, it becomes next to impossible for the surgeon to find and remove them all. That is why the experts say cancer can be cured — when it is in the early stages.

What one knows about cancer is important, of course. But it is what he does with this knowledge that really matters.

State Review Adds $65,582 to Water Assets

PSC Auditor Says Utility One of Best; Lauds Record-Keeping

A review of property records by the state public service commission has added $65,582.61 to the assets of the Appleton water commission, the commission was told Friday.

John Dahlk, PSC auditor, also told the commission he regards the commission's records and accounting system as one of the best in the state. He described the commission as an above average state Class A utility.

The $65,582.61 pushes the assets of the utility to $4,392,142.36 as of Dec. 31, 1956, Dahlk said. Commission accountants and auditors had the book value of assets at $4,326,559.75 through the same date.

Arthur Dimick, department secretary, said the increase will be added to records as they are updated from that time.

Affects Taxes, Rates

Dimick said the increase means the utility will pay more in city taxes, but will have a larger base when it next asks the PSC for a water rate increase.

Commission Chairman James Wagg said he does not foresee a rate increase request for several years.

In other action Friday, the commission:

Told Dr. Fred S. Marshall, 325 N. Appleton street, it will seek an opinion of the PSC about his claim for a rebate on an air-conditioning surcharge. Dr. Marshall said he has a 5-ton air-conditioner at his clinic, but does not use it for comfort cooling. Rather, he said, it is used to keep moisture from his therapeutic swimming pool and two whirl pool baths from permeating and rotting his new building.

Group Life

Decided to offer the same group life insurance policy to department employees as the city council has offered its employees. Dimick reported an informal survey indicates about 80 per cent of the department's 30 employees will take the insurance. Premium costs are shared with the employee paying no more than $120 a month for a $2,000 term life policy.

Authorized Dimick to close the department's office the Saturday, May 30.

Concluded in Wagg's interim decision to hire Orbinson and Orbinson to stake out for the Interlake mill the route of the proposed feeder main across the Fox river to the south side.

Interlake has just received a large shipment of logs. Wagg explained, and wants to pile them, but not over the route of the main.

Ordered purchase of a $205 machine for tapping-in on water mains.

Carissa or Dwarf Plum

Indoor Gardening

Lovely Dwarf Natal Plum Newcomer as House Plant

By Katherine B. Walker

Last year Carissa grandiflora (var. nana compacta) was an almost-unheard-of plant for indoor gardens, although it had been offered as an outdoor plant for Florida gardens for some time. Since this is one of the plants I am partial to, I am glad to find several reliable sources have it in stock.

This variety of Carissa is a Dwarf Natal Plum, lacking the spines which usually characterize the species. It is a little "tricky" to grow, and since it is a comparatively recent introduction among house plants, it is still fairly expensive. In my opinion it is well worth the price. (For those of you who are interested, it is under $5.)

Carissa has leaves up to silver-dollar size, glossy, heavy-textured, dark green, in flat rosettes that overlap. In the centers of the foliage rosettes appear the star-shaped, waxy, fragrant white blossoms, followed (if you have insects to pollinate them) by round, bright red fruits the size of lower leaves in its native habitation. Even without that, there is little you can do to prolong their stay on the stem or stalk. However, by approximating their natural environment as closely as possible, the plant will not shed them prematurely.

Give Ample Water

Give Carissa rich, humusy soil, ample water, and a warm, shaded location. Propagation is by seed or by cutting of new wood. The "tricky" part of growing this plant, which I referred to previously, is its tendency to drop leaves if it is handled roughly when transplanted. If the entire rootball is shifted without disturbance, the plant seldom shows any shock.

Some of you newcomers to Indoor Gardening are asking questions about outdoor gardens, which we do not answer; these should be directed to your newspaper's Garden Editor instead of to me. Others of you are forgetting to enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope for your reply; this delays our answer, although you will eventually receive one. To the Goldenrod-fancier who took me to task for implying the plant might cause hay fever, but who neglected to sign her name to her letter, may I assure her that I, too, think it is a beautiful plant when in flower. However, flowers ordinarily produce pollen, and pollen of any kind often tickles a sensitive nose.

Questions and Answers

Is it ever right to give plants a little water every day instead of watering once a week heavily?

Yes. Circumstances as well as the type of plant often indicate watering in a way that differs from what I suggest. However, I try to recommend what will, under ordinary circumstances, be the best manner of applying water.

Can tropical plants which normally lose many of their fragrant white blossoms, follow lower leaves be induced to hold loved (if you have insects to pollinate them) by round.

If a plant is prone to lose bright red fruits the size of lower leaves in its native habitation, there is little you can do to prolong their stay on the stem or stalk. However, by approximating their natural environment as closely as possible, the plant will not shed them prematurely.

Is Macpherson a good house plant?

Yes, if you can give it the conditions of moisture and humidity it prefers; no, if you expect to set it on a coffee-table and have it thrive.

What is the greyish-leaved foliage I saw used in large bouquets at a flower show? The leaves are opposite, and they had quite an odor when bruised. This might have been one of the Eucalyptus species, many of which are prized for their foliage.

Perfume is the top note to all flattery. One can begin with the scented bath, which in turn serves as a period of relaxation.

LC-K to Play Valley Fair '9'

Appleton Team Makes Home Debut Against Hard-Hitting Combine; Manty Duels Reedsville

Appleton Valley Fair, which got nifty opening-game pitching, welcomes Little Chute-Kimberly, possessor of strong hitting in its inaugural, in a feature Fox River Valley Amateur league game Sunday. The contest will be played on the South Side Athletic club diamond. Sunday's other tilt matching first game winners sends Manitowoc to Reedsville.

Stoeger hurled 7-2-3 frames against Kaukauna and then was relieved by the strong-throwing Trinrud who pitched the hitless ball the rest of the way as the new Appleton entry won, 3-1.

Sunday's Valley Fair foe, Little Chute-Kimberly, smashed 12 hits in rolling to a 15-4 win over Two Rivers. Either service returner Clete Wynboom or Bob Mehlberg might start for LC-K.

Defending champion Menasha visits Two Rivers with either Jack Konetzke or Ron Dibelius expected to get the starting call as the Macs seek their first 1958 win.

Harrison and Kaukauna were scheduled to meet at Harrison, but the game site will be switched to Kaukauna, at Harrison's request. The visitors are seeking pitching help after last week's 18-0 rout at the hands of Oshkosh. Kaukauna will likely go with Gerry Hopfensperger who fanned 10 and yielded just five hits against Valley Fair.

Freedom's Mike VandenHeuvel, who figures to toughen up after rough treatment at the hands of Reedsville last week, will probably make his second start against Oshkosh. Right-hander Jim MacKinnis is the visitors' likely starting choice.

Starting for Manty Sunday will probably be big John Strzyzewski, rookie, right-hander. Reedsville figures to counter with Harold "Buck" Edinger.

Both picked up victories in their first starts last weekend.

Rochester Tips Green Bay, 9-1

Johnson's Homer Gives Burlington 12-10 Win in 11

By the Associated Press
Rochester's baseball team and a sneak thief combined to make things unhappy for Green Bay in Three-I League action Friday night.

Rochester's Leon Webrand pitched a 5-hitter for a 9-1 victory and the sneak thief made it a clean sweep by making off with $746 after breaking into Green Bay's locker room.

Fox Cities lost to Davenport's league leaders, 7-2, and Burlington's Lou Johnson homered for a 12-10 decision over Cedar Rapids in 11 innings.

Cedar Rapids saw a 6-0 lead go down the drain as Burlington rallied for eight runs in the sixth inning and owned a 10-7 lead in the eighth. Cedar Rapids' deadlocked matters in that frame but Johnson's 2-run blast untied it in the eleventh.

Five homers were hit in the game with Cedar Rapids' Bob Knoop unloading one with the bases full.

Lawrence's Dave Mulford set new school and Whiting field records Friday when he ran the half-mile in a sizzling 1:56.8 during the Midwest conference track and field.

Mulford, one of three Vikes to qualify Friday, missed the conference record of 1:56.7 by a mere .1 of a second. He set the only field record in the six events that were held.

Earns 10 Places
The Vikes' Ted Sutherland placed third in one section of the 880 to qualify for today's finals. The third Lawrentian to pass his qualifying test was Gary Scovel who placed second in one heat of the high hurdles.

Defending champion Cornell, led by Ron Altenberg, showed the way into today's finals with seven men who earned 10 places in the six events. Trials were run only in the 100 and 220 yard dashes, the high and low hurdles and the 440 and 880 yard runs.

Altenberg wrapped up first places in three different trials heats — the 100, the 220 and the low hurdles — without extending himself in any of them.

Carleton and Grinnell were the next most successful behind Cornell Friday. Five Pioneers earned six places in four events. Four Carls won six places in four events.

Monmouth speared four places in three events with a trio of athletes. St. Olaf earned three.

Hogan Paces Snead Festival On Blazing 129

22-Year-Old Gary Player 2nd With 131

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va. — (AP) — Two hard-hitting 160-pounders, the experienced Ben Hogan and the young Gary Player from South Africa, go out today for the third round in the Sam Snead Golf festival with the veteran in front by two strokes.

The 22-year-old Player put on a brilliant run for the lead Friday with a 65 in back of a 66 on the par 70 course.

But Hogan, 45, in a form reminiscent of the years when he ruled the golfing world, came in behind him with 64. It was a stroke lower than his opening salvo of 65.

Hogan's score of 129 halfway through the 72-hole tourney is only a stroke higher than in 1950 when he shot a winning 259 total. At the time, it equaled the lowest competitive score anywhere for 72 holes. Mike Souhak since has lowered it to 257 on a Texas course.

Six Birdie's
Hogan was on every green with a chance for birdies and made six of them on his second round of Snead's home course. He never went over par. Snead, who had teed off with Player also a stroke in back of Hogan, dropped back another with a 66. Although he had an eagle three on the 525-yard seventeenth and four birdies. Snead was his customary erratic self and went over par twice.

Player, who scored his first victory in the United States last month at Louisville, Ky., knocked in six birdies and went over par once.

In the sixth inning, the visitors scored five runs.

Jerry Kuppurnus was the starting pitcher for the Bulldogs. Two freshmen shared the hill during the closing three innings. They are Dick Stern and Gary Herres.

Kimberly — Six runs in the second inning gave the Kimberly Papermakers a 7-3 Mid-Eastern conference baseball victory over Clintonville here Friday afternoon.

The Truckers took a 2-0 lead in the first inning when Carl Moder tripled Dale Koeppen home after Koeppen had reached first on an error. Moder scored on the next play as another Papermaker miscue allowed the run.

11 Batters Come Up
Three singles and four walks highlighted the Kimberly rally in the second as 11 batters went to the plate before the side was out.

Marv Smits led off with a walk. "Chuck" Zarter singled and Dave Minten walked to load the bases. Warren Polman worked Huebner for another pass to force in the first Kimberly tally.

Don Hearden followed with a hit to score a pair of runs and after an error Bob Robinson's hit scored two more. Robinson scored after Jack Lamers walked and an infield error.

Polman scored the other Papermaker run when he was doubled home by Hearden.

Hearden was the hitting star for the Papermakers with three for four. Bill Van Elzen had a double and single in four trips. Marv Smits hurled the win for Kimberly and held the Truckers to seven hits. Two of the safeties were singles by Buchberger.

bound their problems with five errors as the Dav-Sox unloaded on two pitchers for 14 hits.

Right-hander Ron Bloodworth, who tossed a 4-hitter the last time out, pitched the first eight innings for the Foxes and he was rapped for 12 hits. Bob Scalzi, who just joined the club and was making his first appearance of the season, gave up a pair of hits and Davenport's final run in the ninth.

The Fox Cities' string of scoreless innings reached 29 Friday night before the club broke the ice with a singleton run on one lonely hit in the eighth inning. The 29 straight scoreless frames extended into parts of four games.

The Foxes have averaged but one run and 4.5 hits a game in their last four contests.

Right-hander Rene Nodarse, who has a disappointing 0-2 record thus far, is due to get the starting call tonight as the Foxes try to salvage the finale of the Davenport series and end their current losing streak at four straight. Lefty Joe Hosner will probably twirl for Davenport.

Fumbles Ball
The DavSox opened scoring in the first Friday. Lead-off batter Don Bacon singled to right and raced to third when shortstop Navarro Davis erred on Jim Lynn's ground ball.

Don Mincher singled sharply to right and, when rightfielder Julian Castro fumbled the ball for his first of two errors, Bacon scored.

Guzman struck out to open the Davenport second but the third strike was on a wild outside pitch which got away from catcher Ed Racynski and Guzman reached first. Rouse's single advanced him and he scored on Bacon's double off the right center field fence which evaded Valdespino's diving stab.

Bill Stenger opened the fourth with a single to left. He

Braves Pick Up Ground Despite Postponement

Game Called in 4th; Buhl to Have Arm Examined

Cincinnati—P—The Milwaukee Braves lost to the rain for the second time in a row Friday night, but they increased their hold on first place in the National league from percentage points to a half game.

The Braves were trailing, 3-1, when their game with the Philadelphia Phillies was washed out Thursday night. But Friday night the shoe was on the other foot as Milwaukee had a 2-0 lead over the Cincinnati Reds before a downpour forced postponement of the game.

Wait Over an Hour

Even with the inactivity, as it will show in the record books, the Braves pulled farther ahead when the Chicago Cubs nipped San Francisco, 6-5, and the Phillies beat the Pirates, 6-2, to push Pittsburgh a full game off the pace in third place.

The Braves were at bat with one out in the fourth when showers turned to a downpour. The game was called after a wait of more than an hour.

Right-hander Buhl was dispatched to Milwaukee to have a sore arm examined.

Buhl reported a "tightness" in his right arm to Braves' trainer "Doc" Bob Feron. After a conference with Manager Fred Haney and General Manager John Quinn, it was decided to send the pitcher to Milwaukee for a checkup by Dr. Bruce Brewer.

Harold Barker's 44 They'll Do It Every Time Leads Valley Iron Golf Circuit

Harold Barker of accounting shot the low gross score, a 44, in this week's action in the Valley Iron Works Fellowship Golf league on the back nine holes at the Reid Municipal course.

The second low gross was Will Mackin's 45 for production control.

Barker's 34 and Mackin's 36 were the low net scores. Harold Norseen and Harold Barker rank first and second in point average to date.

Mary Trettin won this week's good fellowship ball.

Hortonville '9' Jolts Shiocton High, 12 to 3

Jim Steffen Raps Home Run With Bases Loaded

Hortonville — A 10-run third inning sparked Hortonville High to a 12-3 victory over Shiocton in a Little Nine conference Western division game Friday afternoon.

The victory gave Hortonville a 3-0 circuit record. If Omro, which has lost once, falls to Winneconne Tuesday, Hortonville will repeat as undisputed division champ. If Omro wins, the Polar Bears and Foxes will have to play their scheduled game.

Wayne Huebner and Lon Kringer combined to throw a 5-hitter at Shiocton. Huebner hurled the first three innings, allowing two hits and fanning five. Kringer pitched the last four—yielding three hits and whiffing four.

Shiocton lefthander Dennis Conrad pitched the first four frames, including the 10-run Hortonville third and he was the loser, D. Theobald twirled two stanzas.

Jim Steffen smashed a bases-loaded home run to feature the big third while Bob Broehm rapped a double in the frame.

Broehm also thumped a pair of singles.

was sacrificed to second by Bacon and scored on Bob Sager's single to left.

Mincher singled to right to open in the fifth and, when Hintze bobbled Castro's throw, Mincher went to second. He came home on Dick Lombardi's shot down the left field line.

End Lengthy Famine

Lindstrom beat out an infield hit on a ground ball to Van Dyke as the eighth began and talented DaySox catcher raced home from first when Castro let Guzman's single to right go through him. Guzman later scored as Rouse was going out, Tom Taylor to Bloodworth.

The Foxes ended their lengthy run famine in the last half of the inning. Pitcher Gary Mitchell pinch-hit for Bloodworth and dropped a single into left field. Valdespino walked, to move him to second, and then a balk sent the runners to second and third.

Nodarse, who was running for Mitchell, scored on Taylor's sacrifice fly.

The DaySox made it 7-1 in the top of the ninth on singles by Lynn and Mincher, a walk to Lombardi and Lindstrom's sacrifice fly. Scalzi still had the bases loaded with one out when Guzman struck out and Raczyński fired to third to pick off Mincher for a double play.

Raczyński pulled a home run blast down the left field line in the last of the ninth to narrow the final gap.

Rouse was especially tough in the middle six innings, allowing just three men to reach base — Bob Van Dyke on a played with Cleveland.

Pierce Stops Tribe On 6-Hitter, 6 to 3

Sox Remain Last; Yankees Rap Senators, Make Lead 5 Games

By The Associated Press

The Chicago White Sox finally gave Billy Pierce some runs and their stubby southpaw ace, who won 55 the past three years, has his first victory of the season.

Even this one was tough for Pierce, who allowed only six hits, walked but three and struck out 10 for a 6-3 decision at Cleveland last night. Two of the hits were homers, but the other Cleveland run was unearned, and the Sox wouldn't have made it except for five runs in the first—on four singles (one a bunt), two walks and two Injun errors.

Blew 3-Run Lead

It was the sixth victory in nine games for Chicago, but the Sox stayed in last place, 7½ games behind New York. The Yankees stretched their American league lead to five games over second place Washington by beating the Senators, 7-2.

Detroit blew a 3-run lead and lost, 5-3, at Kansas City. Baltimore and Boston were tied by rain.

The White Sox matched their run total in Pierce's three defeats in the first inning. And after they counted another in the second, they were through scoring for the night.

The Sox got their five on a bases-loaded walk, Mickey Vernon's error on Jim Rivera's bunt single and RBI singles from "Bubba" Phillips and Jim Landis. Don Ferrarese gave up all the runs for a 0-2 record.

Pierce had lost two to the Indians this season after beating them six times while gaining his second successive 20-victory year in 1957. He gave up homers to Bobby Avila, in the fifth, and "Minnie" Mino in the eighth.

McDougal Homers
The Yankees, shut out on five hits Sunday by Camilo Pascual, trailed 1-0 and had but three hits off the Washington right-hander until the sixth. Then Gil McDougal's 1-on homer capped a 3-run rally after Hank Bauer had doubled and scored the tying run on Tony Kubek's single and a force out by Mickey Mantle. "Whitey" Ford won his third with an 8-hitter—his 11th straight over Washington since Sept. 20, 1954.

Kansas City didn't get a man on base against Herm Wehmeier, the ex-St. Louis Cardinal making his first appearance for Detroit, until Bob Cerv swatted his eleventh homer with one out in the fifth. Then the A's opened up with four in the seventh, chasing Wehmeier and tagging ex-mate Tom Morgan with the defeat. Frank House, late of the Tigers, counted the clincher with a 2-run single. Tom Gorman won it in relief of Ralph Terry, who gave up all the Tiger runs on Frank Bolling's homer.

Ed Elisian Hits 148.148 MPH At Indianapolis

Indianapolis — One minute flat for a lap around the 2½-mile Indianapolis Motor speedway—150 miles an hour on a track built for 75—was only three-quarters of a second away today as time trials opened for the forty-second 500-mile race May 30.

If predicted rain held off, there was a good chance that Pat Flaherty's 2-year-old qualifying record of 146.056 m.p.h. for one lap would be broken several times on the 49-year-old track.

The 1956 race winner's mark had been bettered three times in practice and Ed Elisian of Oakland, Calif., missed the magic minute, which had been thought to be years away, by only .75 second Friday.

Elisian drove his No. 5 Zink Special around the asphalt and brick circuit in 1:00.25, or 148.148 miles an hour. A short time earlier Dick Rathmann of Miami in a McNamara Special was clocked at 1:01.21, or 147.010 m.p.h.

Cardinals' Sam Jones Stops Dodgers, 2-0

By The Associated Press

While the kids have stumbled off with a double in the sixth, Sam Jones, the oldest starter on the staff, has caught fire to keep the St. Louis Cardinals on the go in their belated about-face in the National league pennant race.

It was Jones, a 32-year-old right-hander, who ended the Cards' losing streak at seven a week ago. And it was Sam who Friday night stopped a chance of another slump with a 6-hitter that beat Los Angeles, 2-0, with the help of Stan Musial's 2-run homer.

It was the first Cardinal shut-out of the year, and gave Jones his third straight victory for a 3-3 record. He walked but two, struck out nine while becoming the first St. Louis pitcher to get two complete-game victories.

Hits 7th Homer
Milwaukee retained first place, although stopped by rain at Cincinnati. The Chicago Cubs clipped second place San Francisco 6-5, and Philadelphia knocked off third place Pittsburgh 6-2.

Musial's seventh homer broke up a duel between Jones and southpaw Johnny Podres in the sixth. Podres, 4-2 after winning his first four, had a two-hit shutout until Eddie Kasko led off with a double in the sixth. Then came the poke by Musial, who had been 0-for-6 and now leads the league with a .474 average.

It was the eighth victory in nine games for the Cardinals, who had but five hits. The Dodgers, in last place after losing seven of eight, twice saw runners nailed at the plate, and another trapped off third by the Card defense.

Harry Anderson lined a 2-run inside-the-park homer in the first, and Stan Lopata belted a solo homer in the second against Bob Porterfield, now 1-1 in two NL starts after being sold by the Boston Red Sox.

A single by Lee Walls scored the clincher in a 2-run ninth for the Cubs as Don Elston picked up a 5-0 record, all in relief. Willie Mays' 2-on homer, his tenth of the year, and eighth in seven games, triggered a five-run Giants' sixth after Dale Long had doubled and homered for a 2-0 Cub lead. Ray Crone lost it in relief.

Thomson Faces Possibility of Calling Special Session of Legislature

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Madison—The possibility of a special session of the state legislature gave the state capitol pause this week.

It was almost as if a chill wind had passed through the statehouse. According to all precedents, a governor who summons a legislature into special session is living dangerously. History suggests that the voters and taxpayers don't like emergency sessions. Historically executives have tried mightily to avoid them.

But, events in congress at Washington are such as to make a call for a special session of the state law-making body by Gov. Vernon W. Thomson, however reluctantly, a very distinct possibility. It might even be classified as a probability.

All the signs indicate that

Company Begins Work on New Telephone Cable

Wisconsin Telephone company is laying a cable from its office on N. Superior street north to W. Wisconsin avenue and east as far as N. Meade street.

The cable will serve rural and urban areas northeast of the city and the trunk and toll route to Little Chute, Kaukauna and Wrightstown.

When Wisconsin avenue was widened and improved from N. Richmond to N. Meade streets in 1955, the city requested the telephone company to remove pole lines through the Wisconsin avenue business district but allowed it to maintain a pole line from N. Superior street to N. Meade street until existing cables required reinforcement.

Underground conduit was installed in the Meade street when that part of E. Wisconsin avenue was improved in 1956.

Total cost of the new cable project is $63,800. Work is expected to be completed in the latter part of July.

congress will soon, perhaps before the end of the month, enact the bill providing for advances or loans to the states to extend benefits to jobless persons under the unemployment compensation systems. The house has already approved the bill. The senate is regarded as certain to concur.

There is no certainty that this state will choose to make such a "loan". There is strong doubt that it would be able to contract for a bona fide loan, under the anti-debt clause of the state constitution.

But the Thomson administration could scarcely afford to resist the movement for higher benefit scales, if such legislation were being enacted in the other states.

Could Extend Benefits

This state, according to all the authorities, could easily afford to extend the duration of benefits out of its own ample reserves. But that would require an amendment of state laws which now limit both duration and scale of aid. If the state wanted to match the actions of other states, a special session of the legislature would be required. Normally the next legislative session would be in January—a distant date from the viewpoint of those interested in benefit legislation.

The state constitution puts the responsibility for calling the legislature into extra session exclusively upon the governor. He cannot be forced to act by anyone. Moreover, he is entitled to limit the topics to those designated in his official call.

That does not assure the governor of immunity from political difficulties, however. While a special session would be held down, with respect to actual enactments, to the subjects expressly indicated by the governor, there is no power within the rules to limit debate, or to restrict the introduction of resolutions and memorials that are not directly connected to the making of statute law.

Historically minorities in the legislature have exploited such opportunities for publicity and attention, and it is accepted without argument that the Democratic minority would use its opportunities against the Republican administration to the utmost in the event the legislature is called back to Madison.

Moreover, the right to offer amendments to the legislation listed in the governor's call is limitless. Any proposal to be advanced by the governor would doubtless be a target of amendments offered by labor organizations, including those which have demanded a higher weekly benefit rate under the compensation law than the state now provides.

That there are political dangers in special sessions is suggested by their comparative rarity.

Only four sessions under special call have been held in the state in the last quarter of a century. The last was a decade ago.

Gov. Thomson thus far has only said that such a plan is being "considered." But advisors in close touch with the unemployment compensation problem concede privately that they can see no alternative except the unlikely one of workers.

Clintonville, one of three perfect-record teams in the Eastern-Wisconsin divisions of the Badger Amateur Baseball association, bids for its third straight victory Sunday afternoon in its visit to Navarino.

Navarino, which lost to Marion last Sunday, now has a 0-2 record. Its first-week win over Tilleda was revoked by the league president because of the use of an unlisted pitcher.

Marion, whose winning pitcher last week was Ray Parks, visits Almon Sunday. Both teams have 500 marks.

State Moving Toward Higher Teaching Rules

Watson Sees 4-Year
Requirements for
All as Inevitable

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison — The toleration of two standards of teacher qualification in the public elementary schools may be nearing an end.

Repeated declarations from school and related groups in recent years for a consistent standard of teacher certification probably forecast a revision of the qualification rules for school instructors in the view of the state department of public instruction.

George Watson, state superintendent, says the adoption of a four year training requirement for all Wisconsin teachers as "inevitable."

Moving Toward St.
"We're moving rapidly in that direction and it is a good thing Wisconsin is somewhat behind the country in its teacher certification standards. Forty-three states now require four years of preparation for a teaching license."

Such a standard is now universally applied by the city school systems of Wisconsin but thousands of teachers in the village and rural schools of Wisconsin are working with less than that desired standard of training.

There are now just under 18,000 elementary school teachers in the state. About 5,300 of them have less than three years of professional preparation. Nearly 500 have less than two years. The total with less than four years amounts to about half of those employed in the elementary schools, the bulk of them in the rural and state graded schools.

1962 Deadline
A clue to the plans of the educators in the field came with the recent declaration of the Association of State College faculties for a 1962 deadline for the four year training test.

The law is now uncertain on whether the state office of education can impose such rules in its own certification work. Chances are that the issue is of sufficient gravity to persuade the department to refer it to the legislature for action.

Any such rule, moreover, would not be applied abruptly. Watson explains. There would be a "grandfather clause", in all likelihood, permitting those teachers already employed to continue in service if they desired to do so. The higher standard would apply only to those employed after the deadline date.

Stage Flames Quelled; NHS Play Continues in Best Theater Tradition

Curtain Catches Fire, Delaying Production
Of 'Princess and Swineherd' 35 Minutes

Neenah — The show went on in the best tradition of the theater Friday night in spite of the fire which interrupted the Neenah High school Thespians' production of "The Princess and the Swineherd".

The show was delayed for about 35 minutes midway in the second scene when the main curtain and curtain liner burst into flame. Stage hands and actors joined forces to extinguish the fire and production continued. The curtain on the stage left side was pronounced a total loss.

The fire was apparently caused when a floodlight on the stage behind the curtain was caught in the curtain when it was drawn back. The light was then directed into the curtain and heated it to the combustion point.

The cotton curtain liner was the first to catch fire. The red velvet main curtain was ablaze seconds later.

Vacated in 30 Seconds
As soon as smoke was noticed the curtains were drawn. Ken Anderson, Thespians director and NHS English teacher, in the back of the auditorium, walked to the front and told the 250 to 300 patrons to leave quickly and orderly. The spectators cleared the theater in about 30 seconds. By this time a hole about 15 feet in diameter had been burned in the curtain and most of the stage was visible through the drape.

As soon as the fire broke out stage hand Ron Dins grabbed the 1 1/2 inch fire hose from the back of the stage and began spraying the drape. Actor Jim Jensen used a soda acid extinguisher from the auditorium side of the curtain.

Actor Sid McLain cut the wires holding the asbestos curtain overhead, but the curtain dropped only about a foot. Other actors pulled stage sets out of the way.

Neenah firemen arrived on the scene moments after the alarm was turned in, but by then the actors and stage hands had the flames under control. Firemen extinguished a few remaining sparks. Three trucks were sent to the school.

Play Goes On
The spectators filed back into the auditorium and the play continued with few hitches. In lieu of the destroyed curtain, actors produced signs reading "curtain" and "applause" and carried them across the stage when the play action required.

The play had been dogged with mishaps since Wednesday. Anderson was unable to attend dress rehearsal Wednesday evening, being home in bed with a fever.

Late Thursday afternoon Actress Jill Harker, who plays a baker woman in the fantasy, came down with measles. Her part was taken over by Jan Langenberg, the play's assistant director.

The play will go on again tonight at 7:15, at the high school somehow.

'No Time for Sergeants' Comedy Hit
Scheduled Monday at Appleton High

Neenah — "No Time for Sergeants," the comedy hit about an artless country boy who is irrepressibly happy Will Stockdale in New York for over a year. The company features Rex Everhart as the harrassed sergeant whose troubles mount with each gesture of good will made by the warm-hearted private.

Freeman Millhollin

inducted into the air force with hazardous results will be the final presentation in the Famous Star Series sponsored by the Neenah Rotary club at 8:15 Monday evening at the Appleton High school auditorium.

Presented by Maurice Evans television and theatrical producer-actor, in association with Emmett Rogers, the New York company of the smash comedy began its cross-country trek after a record-breaking two-year hit bonanza on Broadway. A specially constructed traveling set complete with all the trappings of the original "No Time for Sergeants" production to be seen here will be an exact replica of the New York presentation, including members of the Broadway cast.

In Cast
Tucker Ashworth plays Ben, Stockdale's ridiculous but ever loyal friend, and Howard Freeman and Royal Beal will be seen as the two generals whose combined efforts cannot cope with the disastrous results of Stockdale's friendly disposition. James Millhollin portrays a bewildered air force psychiatrist and Christian Flanders, a bullying inductee.
Morton Da Costa, who has staged such Broadway hits as "Auntie Mame," "Plain and Fancy" and "The Music Man" directed the present New York troupe as well as its west coast duplicate. Peter Larkin's settings have been adapted by Gerald Ritholz and Noel Taylor provided the costumes, and Peggy Clark, the lighting.
"No Time for Sergeants" is the first play to be sent from New York by the recently formed Broadway Theatre Alliance, Inc., a subsidiary of Columbia Artists Management, which aims to bring top notch living theatre to all sections of the land.

Jays Edge Rockets 5-3; Sew Up Share of League Honors

Menasha Breaks Tie With Two Runs in Fifth; Record Reads 5-1; Neenah Has 4-3 M-E Mark

Menasha — Menasha sewed up a share of the Mid-Eastern conference baseball championship by coming from behind twice to edge Neenah 5-3 here Friday afternoon. The loss eliminated the defending champion Rockets from title consideration. The Jays' record is 5-1; Neenah's 4-3.

All the Jays have to do is defeat winless New London in a makeup game and the undisputed title will be theirs. No date has been set for the makeup.

The battling Jays were forced to come from behind twice and two other times they had to break ties before finally winning. The score was 2-1 in favor of Neenah at the end of two innings, 2-2 at the close of three, 3-3 at the end of four and the hosts broke the final tie with a two spot in the fifth.

First Jay Win

For the Jays, the win not only gave them league laurels but it broke a string of Neenah athletic wins over them this term. Rocket varsity squads had defeated them twice in basketball and tennis and once in football and track.

Lefty Gordy Selbach went the route for the Jays and allowed five hits, none after the fourth inning. His wildness got him into frequent trouble and he walked five hitters, including Tom Syring three times. Selbach whiffed five.

Marv Carlson opened on the hill for the Rockets and worked until the fourth when Gene Gries relieved. Gries took the loss.

Allows 4 Hits

In three and two-thirds innings, Carlson allowed three runs, four hits, walked one, hit another and fanned two. Gries, in the final two and two-thirds, was touched for two runs, two hits, struck out five and didn't walk anyone.

Catcher Jerry Moder, who had been out of action for a couple of weeks with an injury, led the Rockets with two hits and he drove in all of his team's runs. Selbach and Don Nelson each had two bingles for the winners.

Sophomore Tom Rummel drove in the two winning runs on a single in the fifth and Dave Robinson, Nelson and Dave Neubauer each sent home one marker.

Score Two In 2nd

The Rockets opened the scoring with a pair in the second. With one out, Dave Thomsen singled to right. He moved to second when Syring walked, and both runners scored on Moder's sharp double to center. George Goetz forced Moder and Gries grounded to Selbach to end the inning.

Menasha came up with a run in the bottom half of the inning. Jerry Kosloski was hit in the head by one of Carlson's pitches, and although he returned to action when Menasha took the field, Harry Sheets ran for him. Rummel popped out but Bill Bauer drew a walk.

The runners advanced a base on a wild pitch and Robinson's long fly scored Sheets. Jim Wilde was safe on an error, but Neubauer flied to the outfield to end the frame.

Jays Tie the Score

The Jays tied the score in the third on Selbach's double, and Nelson's single. Carlson then bore down and put out the next three hitters.

The visitors scored their final run in the fifth. Carlson singled but was forced at second by Thomsen. Syring got his second walk and Moder singled to right, scoring Thomsen. Selbach then forced Goetz to hit into a double play.

The Jays tied the score in the fourth. Bauer was safe on Dan Began's error and stole second. After the next two hitters were out, Neubauer slashed a double down the left field line. Gries then replaced Carlson and forced Selbach to hit to him.

Rockets Blank Oshkosh High For Tenth Win

Neenah Cops Five Of Seven Matches In Straight Sets

Oshkosh — Sweeping all but two of its matches in straight sets, Neenah registered a 7-0 blanking of Oshkosh here Friday afternoon. The win was the tenth in 11 starts for the Rockets.

At No. 1, Ed Meyer was forced to go three sets before downing Wayne Bahr. The scores were 8-6, 6-8, 6-4. Dick Wilson, Neenah's No. 2 player, also was pushed to three sets before downing Ken Krohn 3-6, 10-8, 6-1.

Dave Reiersen won 6-2, 6-1 over Carl Schwertfeger at No. 3 while Jack Ankerson posted a 6-4, 6-2 triumph over Wayne Frazier at No. 4. In the fifth singles match, Paul Valente defeated Leon Duchatchek 6-2, 6-1.

Meyer and Ankerson trimmed Krohn and Bahr 6-4, 7-5 at the No. 1 doubles and Wilson and Reiersen toppled Schwertfeger and Frazier 6-3, 6-4 at the second.

In exhibition play, Oliver Hoppe defeated Pat Bork 6-4, 6-4 and Valente and Hoppe turned back Tom Pomeroy and Duchatchek 6-2, 6-3 to give the Rockets a sweep.

Neenah will bid for its fifth Mid-Eastern conference win Monday afternoon when it plays at New London. The Rockets downed the Bulldogs 7-0 in an earlier meeting.

Research Goes After Third Marathon Win

Menasha — Research and Development bids for its third straight win in the Marathon Softball league when it plays Carton Miehe at 7 o'clock Monday night at Jefferson park. Miehe has a 1-0 record.

The opening game at 5:30 will bring together Carton Press and Neenah Plant. Press has two defeats and Neenah Plant one.

Nelson Singles

Nelson led off the fifth with a single. Ken Konetzke bunted but was safe when the throw got away from Carlson at first. Nelson took third and Konetzke stopped at second.

Gries struck out Kosloski but Rummel drove a hit to right, scoring both runners with what turned out to be the deciding runs.

The Rockets threatened in the sixth when, with one out, Thomsen and Syring walked but Selbach made Moder force Syring at second and he fanned freshman Goetz. The losers were up and down in order in the seventh.

The box score:

Twin City Nines Open District Meet Action

Menasha Tests Kimberly; Rockets to Take on Winner of Today's Winneconne-Oshkosh Tilt

Menasha — Neenah and Menasha will swing into district tournament play Monday afternoon at the Menasha ball park against a couple of worthy opponents.

The Bluejays will take on Kimberly at 3:30 while Neenah is scheduled to face the winner of this afternoon's Winneconne-Oshkosh game at 5:30. The winners will play for the district title Wednesday afternoon.

Should Oshkosh be Neenah's foe, and it is an overwhelming favorite to down Winneconne, both Twin City teams will be afforded the opportunity to avenge earlier season setbacks.

Posts 10-1 Slate

Menasha goes into the meet with a 10-1 record and the lone setback was an eight-inning 5-4 reverse at the hands of Kimberly. Neenah, including Friday's 5-3 loss to Menasha, has a 6-5 and one of its defeats was to Oshkosh in the first game of the season.

Since Gordy Selbach worked Friday's game against the Rockets, Ken Konetzke, the other half of Menasha's fine one-two pitching combination, is expected to hurl for the hosts. Both saw action against the Papermakers. Henry Peerboom is the likely Kimberly starter.

Oshkosh Cops

Gene Gries and Marv Carlson each worked about half of the Menasha game and either one may start. Both hurled against the Indians the first time around when Oshkosh posted a 6-0 win as Pete Kaul and Gary Johnson set the Rockets down without a hit.

In tournament play last year Neenah downed Omro and Winneconne before dropping a 2-1 decision to Menasha in a dandy championship game. The Jays defeated Berlin before meeting the Rockets. Kimberly was assigned to another tournament a year ago.

Menasha went on to defeat North Fond du Lac in a sectional game but lost to Hortonville in the tournament final.

Jitter's Tests Subway Club In 2nd Start

Menasha — Jitter and Joe's will make its second softball start of the season at 7:30 tonight when it tackles Subway Merchants at Jefferson park.

The Menashans defeated the Twin City Merchants 5-4 in 10 innings on May 4 in their first outing while Subway registered a 5-1 triumph over the Merchants last weekend.

Fred Fuller, "Wimpy" Drum or Cliff Brinkman is expected to pitch for Jitter's probably Shepard or Darrell Schultz will against Les Dietzen or Bob Diener.

Expansion of Diagnostic Services Proposed in Hospital Master Plan

Neenah — Ancillary facilities of Theda Clark Memorial hospital include those medical services which assist in diagnosis, care and treatment of all patients and many of these facilities are cramped for space at the present time.

Most of them are highly specialized services needing special construction areas, well trained technical personnel and in some cases, specialized medical men to interpret findings.

The hospital at present has a pathology unit where tissues are studied and read. It has facilities and equipment for X-rays, electrocardiograms, electroencephalographs for charting of brain waves and electroplethysmographs for charting blood circulation.

It also has facilities for bacteriology, biochemistry, blood examination, serum study and urinalysis, for basal metabolism tests, physiotherapy for portable bedside X-rays and for radiation therapy.

The board of trustees, recognizing the difficulty of projecting the use of some of these services into the future, did however realize that they must be considered in the overall master plan of expansion and development. As a result, conservative estimates of increased use based on past experience, were charted for each of the five stages of expansion. These five stages will be at 10 to 12 year intervals.

The trustees also considered development of these services for increased efficiency and service and for greater economy. In this program, it recommends that the medical would include all types of X-ray facilities include the rays, radiographic examinations and pathological laboratories, and the patient service section under a reorganized unit to be known as the laboratory service department.

The pathology section would include offices of the pathologist, a microscope room, histology laboratory, autopsy room and a tissue room or a frozen section lab located in the operating room suite.

The clinical lab section would include such specialized labs as bacteriology, biochemistry, blood examination, serums and urinalysis. It would also include such services as a blood artery bank, a bone bank, eye bank and blood bank, even such become necessary.

(Theda Clark hospital now has refrigeration facilities for storage of blood plasma and whole blood sent it through the Red Cross blood bank program.)

The patient service department would include all lab services directly concerned with patients, providing space and facilities for taking specimens from outpatients and for blood donors. This department also would include facilities for electrocardiograms, basal metabolism tests, electroencephalographs, electroplethysmographs and audiometer tests.

X-Ray Services

The radiology department would include all diagnostic X-ray services, radiation therapy and radioisotope service when the latter might be included. It is expected that eventually the use of cobalt will be part of the medical service.

The X-ray service naturally would include all types of X-ray facilities include the rays, radiographic examinations and pathological laboratories, and the patient service section under a reorganized unit to be known as the laboratory service department.

Menasha — Defeated in their initial start against Manitowoc last weekend, the Menasha Macs will make another attempt to break into the win column when they travel to Two Rivers Sunday afternoon for a Fox River Valley loop encounter.

Two Rivers was thumped 15-4 by the combination Kimberly-Little Chute entry in its maiden effort last week. The Cool city nine is expected to be strengthened when the high school season is completed and to take the hill. Although he hurled Ron Brault joins the squad.

Two Rivers is in its fourth year in the league and in the previous three hasn't been able to trim the Menashans. Two years ago it was victimized by Ron Dibelius in a no-hitter and last season the Macs came through with 9-2 and 2-0 triumphs.

Dibelius, who pitched a good game in losing to Manitowoc 3-2 last week, is expected again to work his way out of trouble and his mates kept him in hot water with seven errors, including a couple which permitted the winning run in the twelfth inning.

Other likely starters are "Bud" Koehnke behind the plate, Jack Konetzke or Jim Kersten, first base; Jim Haack second base; Clem Massey, shortstop; and Dick Cornell or Konetzke, third base, and John DeYoung, Ron Gall and Darold Eggert in the outfield.

George Cisler, who gave the Menashans trouble the few innings he worked in the league all-star game here last July, is the probable Two Rivers hurler.

Most of the other players in the lineup are league veterans. They include Dick Markusen, catcher, Doug Baker, shortstop, Arnie Ruelle, third baseman; Karl Zuehl, centerfielder, just to name a few.

The test will be the first of three straight out of town games for the Macs, who play at Harrison May 25 and at Oshkosh June 1.

Elliott Runs 3:57.8 Mile but It Probably Won't Go in Books

Los Angeles — Herb Elliott, the wonder from Down under, has a world record mile run in the hopper today but there's much doubt that he'll ever get it in the books.

The slender young Australian ran the distance in a stunning 3:57.8 in the Coliseum relays mile point—when he suddenly Friday night, beating the recognized world record held by fellow Aussie John Landy by two-tenths of a second.

But there was grave suspicion that the International Amateur Athletic federation might be recognized—although it cast a skeptical eye at Elliott's still could be—because of magnificent performance being.

State Baseball Tourney Tops Sports Slate

Neenah, Menasha Track Squads in Sectional Meets

Menasha — Baseball tournaments and sectional track meets highlight next week's spring sports activity for the various high school squads.

The top attraction on the week's slate will be the seventh annual state Catholic baseball tournament, sanctioned by the Wisconsin Catholic Interscholastic Athletic association, which is scheduled for Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Menasha ball park.

Pairings for the eight-team meet are expected to be announced early next week.

Neenah and Menasha will be involved in district tournament play Monday, with the Jays testing Kimberly at 3:30 and Neenah scheduled to face the winning winner of this afternoon's game between Oshkosh and Winneconne at 5:30. The district finals will be played Wednesday.

St. Mary has completed its regular schedule and won't see any more action unless it is chosen for the Catholic tournament.

In track, both the Rockets and Jays have completed their dual and triangular schedules and they will see sectional meet action Friday night. Menasha competes in class B at Ripon and Neenah is in class A at Fond du Lac.

Both Neenah and Menasha have a few tennis duals left. Menasha is at Appleton Tuesday, at New London Thursday, at Wauwatosa Friday and at Waukesha Saturday morning while Neenah is at New London Monday, entertains unbeaten Manitowoc Tuesday, plays host to Kimberly Thursday and is at Wayland academy Friday.

Neenah Veterinarian Discusses Dogs, Pets At Optimist Meeting

Neenah — Dr. John L. Wilson, Neenah Veterinarian, discussed dogs and pets at the Neenah-Menasha Optimist club meeting Tuesday noon at the Valley Inn.

The speaker emphasized the importance of considering facilities before acquiring a pet and cited the advantage of owning pure bred dogs. He said that it is generally better to acquire a puppy rather than an older dog.

Dr. Wilson reported that scraps should be fed only after dog food. Vaccination is a good idea, especially in hunting dogs.

He added that too many people overlook cats, that they require little care and are inconspicuous. The speaker was introduced by Don Stafford, program chairman.

3 Racing Games Described; Fun to Hold as Picnic Events

BY CAPPY DICK

Picnic races should be fun not only for the racers, but for the spectators, too, and the three described here today are for both purposes.

One is a lobster race. You won't need a stop watch to know who is the winner. Any number may enter and the course need not be very long since no racer will care to go water, not in a cup, but in a teaspoon, making as many trips as are necessary from the cup at the starting line to the cup at the finish. The winner is the one who has the most water in his finish-line cup when all the runners have completed carrying water from one cup to the other.

very far in the position required. One word of caution: Be sure there is no broken glass or sharp stones on the race course.

The racers are lined up at the starting place with backs to the finish line. Hands and feet on the ground and the rest of the body well off the ground. As if this were not tough enough, they must also move backward, lobster style, when the race starts. It isn't only that it's hard to see where you are going, but your legs just don't seem to operate backwards in the required position. The first lobster to cross the finish line is the winner of course.

The wheelbarrow race is easier. Again watch out for glass on the track. This is a team race. A small boy is the wheelbarrow and a larger boy holding him by the ankles "wheels" him along the race course to the finish line. The small boy must walk on his hands.

The water-carrier's race requires each runner to carry half a cup of water from the starting line to the finish. This doesn't sound difficult, but the catch is that he must carry the

Warm Sun Helps Fishing Situation

Walleyes, White Bass, Catfish Hitting in County; Water Down

This is the second of the weekly Wisconsin fishing reports and represents the findings of more than 70 conservation wardens in all sections of the state.

Warmer weather has improved fishing over last week and the walleye fishing should be highly successful in the north over the weekend in the opinion of many wardens.

Many of the streams are running low and clear with an adverse effect on trout fishing.

Pan-fishing is picking up with the fish starting to run into the shallows and should continue to improve in the days ahead.

A study of the detailed report will show that there is good fishing available in all areas.

Outagamie county — Warden Chuck Wranosky. Wolf river fishing remains good. Nice catches of walleyes, white bass and catfish being taken. Water level is at a summer low. Walleye fishing remains fair to good. Walleyes being taken with minnows, night crawlers and some spinning baits.

Manitowish county — Warden Herb Vanderbloemen. Bluegills and crappies being taken on minnows and poppers. Perch fishing from piers on Lake Michigan better. Minnows best bait. Trout fishing on Pigeon, Horseshoe and Snow Lake good with many limits taken. Best baits worms, minnows. May nymphs, cow bells. Northerns still biting good in Manitowish river in vicinity of Collins. Winnebago county — Warden Frank Derringer. Northern pike hitting very well. Walleyes fair to good. White bass fair to good with some nice catches being taken on Fox and Lower Wolf.

Dodge county — Warden Melvin Lange and Pat Burdick. Fox Lake black bass and walleyes very good. Pan-fishing fair to good. Shawano Lake. Lake walleyes fair to good. Bullheads very good. Some northerns being taken.

Green Lake county — Warden Bill Feller. Green Lake producing good catches of white bass and black bass. Bass hitting well in bays. Lake trout also hitting well. Puckaway producing some nice perch and excellent catches of catfish and large bullheads. Little Green producing bass and some sizeable rainbows.

Waushara county — Warden Rex Oatman. White bass starting to bite on Wolf river from Guths landing to Fremont. Trout fishing fair on Chain O' Lakes, Mitten and Shawano lakes. Lake trout good on Partridge lake at Fremont. Sheboygan county — Warden Glen People. Northern pike biting good at Sheboygan marsh. Some good catches of trout being taken from lakes. Bluegills have moved into shallow water and are biting good at Crooked Lake. Small poppers and flies best bait. Some good catches of perch being made at Sheboygan marsh.

Grand du Lac county — Warden Charles Schumpp. Fishing on Winnebago continues slow with not many fishermen using the lake. Some walleyes being taken. Some pan-fishing being taken on Long Lake with flies. Bullheads starting to hit.

Langlade county — Warden Carl Viersch. Water levels below normal. Trout poor to fair, depending on weather conditions. South of Highway 66 there are some fair catches of bass and northerns. Pan-fishing going excellent catches of crappies being made on warm afternoons and evenings.

Shawano county — Warden Phil Zeman and O. E. Jouson. Trout streams low and fishing pressure has been heavy. Some trout being taken but very few limits. Lake fishing is very good. Lake levels about normal in this area. Black bass, walleye and panfish catches are good. Northern catches only fair. The number of lake fishermen a little below average for this time of the year. Plan Has Farmers Aiding In Wildlife Management

Private State Farms Would Build Small Ponds, Under Proposal

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — A unique plan for farmer participation in the wildlife management program, is attracting wide interest in conservation circles.

Harold Kruse, a Sauk county farmer better known as president of the Citizens Natural Resources Association of Wisconsin, recently submitted some of his ideas to the natural resources committee of state agencies.

Four Ponds

Among them was a blue-print for the creation of thousands of small ponds and water storage reservoirs on the private farms of Wisconsin, to assist flood control, conserve surplus waters and promote the prosperity of fish and wild bird and animal life.

Kruse also proposed public assistance to farmers for better cropping and soil management practices, and the reforestation of hillsides and other marginal acres unsuited to food production.

Kruse told the state committee which is a coordinating group for state conservation activity:

"On our 185-acre farm in Sauk county, we have room for at least four of such ponds, one of which has already been constructed. Multiplying this by the 3,000 or so farms in the county, most of which have a place for at least one such structure, gives some idea of the tremendous amount of water which could be stored for use in irrigation, regulating stream flows, or providing wildlife habitat and recreation. "Work of this sort is being done on several Wisconsin watersheds at present, but I would like to see more assistance given to the individual farmers for such practices, whether they are a part of a watershed association or not. The chief problem here, as in other conservation work, is one of selling the idea to the land-owners."

Revive Bounty Issue At Fish, Game Talks

Waupaca, Outagamie County Vote Indicates Many Sportsmen Want Predator Payment Plan Returned

BY JAY REED

Post-Crescent Outdoor Editor

The conservation congress meetings in Outagamie and Waupaca counties this week emphasized again what many an active outdoorsman already knew — the average man who totes a gun afield in the fall wants Wisconsin to restore its predator bounty system.

When, after years of urging by conservation department game managers, the legislature wiped traditional bounty laws from its books, many hunters in prime bird country flinched a little but bowed to arguments of department experts.

Now that the plan has had a chance to work, more and more hunters are adding their voices to the cry for return of the bounty system.

No Dissenting Votes

There were about 100 sportsmen present at the two county meetings and not a single dissenting vote was heard when it was recommended the state restore the bounty system. One hundred men do not make a majority. But these men, it can be assumed, represent a great majority of hunters in the northeast area.

The Outagamie County Conservation club went on record for this spring in favor of restoring the bounty system. Many clubs in the western part of the state have done the same.

It is rare when any man who spends a considerable amount of time in the field will say, without qualification that the bounty system is the final cure-all to the lack of game birds. Indeed, it was one of the conservation department's chief arguments that the bounty system, in effect for dozens of years, had failed to produce better hunting.

Even many of the sporting groups who plug for the return of the bounty admit it is not the complete answer and that the system has faults.

But, it appears, the feeling is growing that a bounty system, regardless of its faults, is better than nothing at all.

Not Guilty

Opponents say if a man wants to hunt foxes he will do so regardless of the bounty.

Proponents say, however, that the weekend or occasional hunter is not the man who cuts deeply into the fox population. It is, rather, the professional fox killer who will go out strictly for the financial reward and harvest predators in such numbers as will be reflected in increased pheasant numbers.

These are the men, many sportsmen say, who now do nothing about foxes since there is no profit involved. They will, they reason, take to the fields again if the bounty system is restored.

Game managers have been saying and continue to say the sation club went on record for this spring in favor of restoring the bounty system. Many clubs in the western part of the state have done the same.

It is rare when any man who spends a considerable amount of time in the field will say, without qualification that the bounty system is the final cure-all to the lack of game birds. Indeed, it was one of the con-ty system say no matter what program the state initiates to hold down foxes, it will cost as much or more as the bounty system. They reason that if such expenditure is to be made anyway, it might as well go to the general hunting public.

This much appears certain: Off results of the game meetings, the bounty system issue seems far from closed. It seems almost certain that pressure for a review of the situation will come from many sections of the state.

Developments will be watched closely by every man who plans to take a gun afield this fall.

Bull Elk Proves

Stranger in Town

Jackson, Wyo. — A large bull elk roamed the streets of Jackson for several days this winter before finally given a bum's rush out of town.

Residents of the little resort community just couldn't keep the elk out of the business district. He just kept hanging around.

Finally Wyoming game and fish department crews lassoed him by the antlers and forcibly took him out of town.

The courses were held on successive Wednesday nights. The first session took up "God in Marriage." Dr. Martin Simon was speaker. "Sex in Marriage" was the Rev. H. E. Showers May Hit Fox Cities By Tonight

While parts of Wisconsin were getting scattered showers today, the Fox Cities were still looking for the much needed rain at noon. But, it may come by tonight. Appleton had partly cloudy skies as the temperature climbed to 74 by 10:20 this morning. The high Friday was 82 and the overnight low, 57. The wind at 10 o'clock this morning was from the south at 14 miles an hour, with the barometric pressure at an even 30 inches. It was sprinkling this morning in Waupaca, which also reported showers overnight. Forecast The state forecast calls for considerable cloudiness with scattered showers and thunderstorms likely today. The showers will end tonight and it will turn cooler in most sections. Sunday will be partly cloudy and cooler. The low will range from 45 to 50 in the northwest to the low 60s in the southeast. The outlook for Monday is fair and mild. The weather bureau's 30-day prediction calls for above normal temperatures over the northern half of the area lying between the Great Lakes and the Rockies. Precipitation over the Great Lakes area and the upper Mississippi valley also is expected to be below normal. This will continue the trend of every month of this year except April.
